End User License Agreement (EULA)

Click2CableDraw – Version 2.x

Licensor and manufacturer:
Gregor Scheidt, sole proprietor, trading as “métier Software”
Auweg 78
85375 Neufahrn
Germany
Email: support@click2cabledraw.org

Date: October 30, 2026

Important notice: This End User License Agreement governs the rights to use Click2CableDraw between the user and the Licensor identified above. Where the product is purchased through Digistore24, the purchase contract is concluded with the Digistore24 reseller identified on the order form and in the order confirmation. The terms of that purchase contract, including its provisions on price, payment, supply, withdrawal and refunds, apply in addition to this License Agreement. Mandatory statutory rights remain unaffected.

This License Agreement is intended to be available in a retrievable and storable form at click2cabledraw.org before purchase and is also displayed during installation.

1. Subject matter

Click2CableDraw is software for creating and editing technical cable drawings and related documents.

The software is offered as a free, functionally limited Demo Version and a paid, unlockable Full Version.

The software, its documentation and supplied components are protected by copyright. No ownership of the source code or other protected components is transferred. Rights relating to third-party components are additionally governed by Section 16.

2. Demo Version

The Demo Version may be used indefinitely, free of charge and without a subscription.

Installation, activation, license verification and use of the Demo Version take place offline and do not require an internet connection. Internet access may be required for the initial download, retrieval of updates, visiting linked websites or online support.

The Demo Version is subject to functional limitations. In particular, project size, project features, editing functions and export functions may be limited. Exports from the Demo Version carry a clearly visible Demo notice or Demo watermark. The applicable limitations are explained in the software or the associated product description.

3. Right to use the Full Version

Following lawful purchase of a Full Version license and successful entry of a valid license key, the user receives a non-exclusive, worldwide and perpetual right to install and use the Full Version in accordance with this Agreement.

The license is acquired for a one-time payment. No subscription fees apply to the perpetual right of use granted.

The software may be used for personal, professional and commercial purposes. Renting, sublicensing or distributing it as the user's own standalone software product is permitted only where expressly agreed or allowed by law.

4. Use on one computer and computer changes

A Full Version license may be used productively on only one computer at a time.

The user may move the license to another computer provided that productive use of the same license on the previous computer is discontinued. Online deactivation of the previous computer is not required. Temporary backup or migration copies are permitted provided that they are not used for simultaneous productive operation.

The license is not tied to a particular hardware identifier. The technical license check does not guarantee that parallel activation or use on multiple computers will be technically prevented. Regardless of that fact, the restriction to one computer at a time remains a contractual obligation.

5. License key and offline activation

The Full Version is unlocked by entering a valid license key. Verification takes place locally on the computer. Neither an internet connection nor a user account is required for installation, activation or continuing license verification. The application does not transmit the license key to an activation server for verification.

The license key must be stored securely. It must not be published or passed to a third party independently of a permitted license transfer.

The customer is responsible for securely retaining and backing up the license key. The Licensor provides no additional contractual guarantee that a lost license key will be recovered or replaced. Mandatory statutory rights remain unaffected.

6. Version scope and updates

A Full Version license purchased for Click2CableDraw 2.x permits use of all versions 2.x.x published by métier Software without additional license or subscription fees.

A version 2.x license does not grant a right to use a later major version, including Click2CableDraw 3.x, unless a separate license is granted.

The 2.x license does not create an obligation to provide particular new functions, any particular number of further versions or any particular further development. Statutory obligations to provide necessary updates, including security updates, remain unaffected.

Updates and legally required information about updates are provided at https://click2cabledraw.org. Additional email notifications may be sent exclusively through Digistore24 where technically and legally possible. Users are encouraged to check the product website regularly for information about new versions. Statutory obligations of the Licensor or the applicable seller to provide information about necessary updates remain unaffected.

The desktop application does not perform automatic online update checks or online license checks.

7. Backup copies and work products

The user may make backup copies to the extent necessary for lawful use or otherwise permitted by law.

Rights in drawings, documents and other work products created using Click2CableDraw remain with the applicable rights holder in respect of content supplied by the user.

The user is responsible for having the right to use any logos, identifiers, text, data and other content they supply.

8. Restrictions

Except where expressly permitted or allowed by law, the user must not:

- reproduce or distribute the software or license keys without authorisation;
- rent, sublicense or resell the software as their own standalone software product;
- circumvent or manipulate technical license checks; or
- remove copyright notices or other protective markings without authorisation.

Mandatory statutory rights, including rights relating to error correction, interoperability, backup and legally permitted examination of the software, remain unaffected.

9. Transfer of a Full Version license

A lawfully acquired perpetual Full Version license may be transferred in full to a third party in accordance with applicable law.

Upon transfer, the original user must completely discontinue their own use, deliver the license key to the recipient and delete program copies they are no longer entitled to retain. The recipient must accept this License Agreement.

The license may not be divided, and simultaneous use by the transferor and recipient is not permitted. Mandatory statutory rules governing the resale of software remain unaffected.

10. Technical drawings and professional responsibility

Click2CableDraw assists in preparing technical documentation. It does not replace professional review, approval, validation or safety assessment by appropriately qualified persons.

Before use, the user must check drawings, bills of materials, wiring data, manufacturing information and other outputs for completeness, accuracy and suitability for their intended purpose. Applicable laws, standards, technical rules and approval procedures must be observed, particularly for safety-related or standards-regulated applications.

This allocation of responsibility does not limit statutory claims arising from defects in the software.

11. Purchase through Digistore24, withdrawal and refunds

Where the product is sold through Digistore24, the Digistore24 reseller identified on the order form and in the order confirmation is the seller and the customer’s party to the purchase contract.

Price, payment, invoicing, supply, withdrawal information, refunds and any additional return right are governed by the purchase contract with the applicable Digistore24 reseller, the terms validly incorporated into that contract and mandatory statutory law.

This EULA does not exclude or shorten any statutory right of withdrawal. A statutory right of withdrawal for digital content expires early only where all applicable statutory requirements have been met. Any required express consent and acknowledgement must be obtained separately during checkout and are not replaced by acceptance of this EULA.

Any voluntary return or money-back arrangement applies only if expressly offered in the applicable offer or purchase contract.

12. Conformity remedies and statutory update obligations

The paid supply of the Full Version is subject to applicable statutory conformity requirements and remedies, including consumer-law provisions governing digital products.

Where the statutory conditions are met, available remedies include bringing the product into conformity, price reduction or termination of the contract, and damages or reimbursement of wasted expenditure.

Claims arising under the purchase contract must be asserted against the applicable seller in accordance with that contract and applicable law. Any statutory or contractual rights existing directly against the Licensor remain unaffected.

Statutory obligations to provide and give information about necessary updates, including security updates, are not restricted by this Agreement. The free Demo Version remains subject to the statutory provisions applicable to it.

13. Liability

The Licensor’s liability is unlimited for intent and gross negligence; culpable injury to life, body or health; mandatory statutory liability; express guarantees within the scope of the guarantee; fraudulent concealment of a defect; and liability that is mandatory under applicable data-protection law.

In the event of a slightly negligent breach of a material contractual obligation, liability is limited to the loss that is typical for the contract and foreseeable when the contract is concluded. A material contractual obligation is one whose performance is essential to proper performance of the contract and on whose performance the user may normally rely.

In all other respects, liability for loss caused by slight negligence is excluded to the extent permitted by law. This provision does not restrict mandatory statutory remedies and applies correspondingly for the benefit of the Licensor's legal representatives and agents.

14. Data protection and offline operation

Following download and installation, the software, including activation and license verification, can be used offline.

Local license verification does not require the license key or other activation data to be transmitted to an activation server. External links contained in the application are opened in the default browser only following an action by the user.

For personal data processed as part of the purchase, the Digistore24 reseller identified during checkout is responsible in accordance with its privacy notice unless stated otherwise.

Information about processing carried out by Gregor Scheidt or métier Software is described separately in the privacy notices made available at https://click2cabledraw.org. This EULA does not replace a privacy notice.

15. Termination of license rights

A properly acquired right to use the Full Version is perpetual in principle.

If the user culpably commits a material breach of this Agreement, the Licensor may terminate the license for cause where the statutory requirements are met. Where legally required and reasonable, the user must first be given an appropriate opportunity to remedy the breach.

Following effective termination, the user must discontinue use and delete program copies they are no longer entitled to retain. Statutory rights to retain backup, archival or evidentiary copies remain unaffected.

The user's statutory termination rights, including rights relating to a defective digital product, remain unaffected.

16. Third-party components

Click2CableDraw contains components, fonts or libraries supplied under separate open-source or third-party licenses.

The license terms and notices applicable to those components are supplied with the software. Where those terms take precedence for a particular third-party component, they remain unaffected by this EULA. This EULA does not restrict any rights granted directly to the user under an applicable third-party license.

17. Governing law and jurisdiction

German law applies.

For consumers, this choice of law applies only to the extent that it does not deprive them of protection granted by mandatory provisions of the country of their habitual residence.

Jurisdiction is determined by the applicable statutory rules.

18. Final provisions and language versions

Individually negotiated agreements take precedence over these standard terms.

If any provision of this Agreement has not become part of the contract or is invalid in whole or in part, the remainder of the Agreement remains effective. The applicable statutory provisions apply in place of the omitted or invalid provision.

The German and English versions are intended to have equivalent content. No difference between the language versions may be interpreted so as to restrict mandatory statutory rights.

© 2026 métier Software, proprietor Gregor Scheidt. All rights reserved.